1. Derbyshire Environmental Studies Service.

Our aim is to make your educational visits easier. We are able to provide Education Visits leaders and equipment to enable tailor-made fieldwork in locations and environments of your choice. For teachers, we can also provide free to download online resources relevant to sites within the area of Derbyshire traversed by the Glossop Line.

School Group Information.

We can provide a day's fieldwork, tailor-made to the needs of your class, led and delivered at a site or location of your choosing and linked to a range of curriculum areas. This could include:

Art and architecture

Traffic and transport surveys

Studying the built heritage and history of a specific site

Habitat or wildlife work

Data collection, recording and interpretation

Mapping land use

Map and compass work

Questionnaires with the public

River and stream studies

Activities can be developed for any location accessed from stations along that part of the Glossop Line in Derbyshire, i.e. between Dinting and Glossop stations. A representative from the Environmental Studies Service would be able to meet groups from any of the following railway stations; Dinting, Hadfield and Glossop. Derbyshire Environmental Studies Service developed a teacher's pack of resources and activities relating to the rich heritage and built environment of Glossop. This was as part of High Peak Borough Council's Heritage Lottery Funded Townscape Heritage Initiative Scheme. There are a wide range of classroom and fieldwork activities, lesson plans and guidelines that you can use to self-lead your own visit exploring this locality. This pack is available to download from www.derbyshire.gov.uk/environmentalstudies in the 'Outreach work across Derbyshire' pages.

2. Peak District National Park: Learning & Discovery team

Introduction

Through creative learning and discovery, we aim to increase people's awareness and understanding of the natural environment and the role they have to play in its future by enabling all to experience the Peak District National Park first hand.

The Peak District National Park Authority has been delivering high quality curriculum-based educational field visits in and around the National Park for over 40 years. We deliver from various field sites and venues around the Park - from the gritstone edges above Hathersage to the limestone dales around Hartington. Examples of the programmes we offer can be seen on our website; www.peakdistrict.gov.uk/learning-about

To make your visit as simple to arrange as possible we are able to provide Learning and Discovery leaders to lead tailor-made fieldwork, fully risk assessed from locations of your choice. For teachers, we can also provide free to download online resources relevant to sites within the area of the National Park accessed by the Glossop Line.

School Information.

Fieldwork can be tailor-made to your needs and linked to a range of curriculum areas, with activities developed for any location in the National Park accessed from stations along the Glossop Line, i.e. between Broadbottom and Hadfield stations. A representative from the National Park's Learning and Discovery Team would be able to meet groups from any of the following railway stations; Broadbottom, Hadfield and Glossop. From Hadfield groups can access our Environmental Centre at Longdendale with its wildlife area and classroom.

Primary Education Visits

We offer a range of field studies for Primary schools. Our aim is to promote an increased understanding of the Peak District National Park by:

- helping children to better explore and understand the natural world through first-hand experiences
- valuing children's instincts, curiosity and thirst for knowledge
- encouraging children to create a 'sense of place'
- enable children to have a safe, fun and enjoyable outdoor experience

The Learning and Discovery programmes have clearly stated outcomes that directly relate to work taught in the classroom. They will contribute to achieving the geography, science and art curriculum and are easy to book. Teachers Notes and risk benefit assessments are available. Each programme can be adapted to suit particular needs and teachers are encouraged to talk to the Learning and Discovery team about their specific needs.

Secondary Education Visits

The Peak District National Park Learning and Discovery Team offers a comprehensive range of field studies for secondary schools, FE and HE colleges covering the science and geography curriculum. We also offer conservation and team building activities that can be linked to gaining nationally recognised awards, such as the John Muir Award. Our aim is to promote an increased understanding of the Peak District National Park and its special qualities.

3. People's History Museum, Manchester

Introduction

Join a march through time at the People's History Museum following Britain's struggle for democracy over two centuries. Meet the revolutionaries, reformers, workers, voters and citizens who fought our battle for the ballot. Gather amongst their magnificent banners and discover how time off was won (and spent).

There is hands-on stuff in every gallery, regular events for families of all ages; busy bee explorer sacks for children aged three to six, family friendly trails and a free picnic area.

The museum operates a full education service offering varied programmes for early years groups, primary and secondary schools, adult and community groups and independent visitors.

School Group Information

We have multi-sensory story sessions, which use puppets, song and dance for our early years visitors. These sessions explore ideas of co-operation, friendship, messages and meanings.

The schools programme includes Living History workshops that use performance, interactive drama activities and gallery exploration to bring learning to life. There are several characters to choose from, including a magical time travelling shopper, a 1950s migrant from the Caribbean, a suffragette and a conscientious objector during World War I. Performances take place throughout the galleries and in our mini-theatre space situated within the main galleries. This exciting space allows us to use lighting, sound and film effects.

ARTicipate is a range of art focused workshops for schools informed by our unique collection including Art of Protest, Build a Banner, Print Power, Drawing on Manchester and Museum of Me workshops.

School groups can also explore Manchester's hidden history on a half-day guided City Centre Trail looking at the buildings, streets and monuments that tell the story of the world's first industrial city.

Self-Guided visits are free but they must still be pre booked with the Learning Team. Booked groups have priority in the display areas. It may be difficult to accommodate your group if you have not booked in advance.

We recommend that you make a preliminary visit, before bringing your class to familiarise yourself with the displays. If you would like to talk to a member of the Learning team please contact us in advance to make an appointment.

If you would like to hold your school's INSET day or staff meeting at the People's History Museum please contact the Learning team for more details. We can organise a Living History performance and give training on drama techniques as part of your day.

You can sign up to our Learning E-newsletter by going on our website, ringing us on 0161 838 9190 or emailing us at learning@phm.org.uk

6. Museum of Science and Industry

Introduction

The Museum occupies the former Liverpool Road Station, one of Manchester's most important historic sites. When the Station closed in 1975, Greater Manchester Council, agreed to purchase it to become the Museum's new home. The Museum opened at its new site on 15 September 1983, the 153rd anniversary of the Liverpool and Manchester Railway. The first major gallery was the Power Hall and in January 2011 a £9 million redevelopment of the Great Western Warehouse was completed. You can download an information sheet giving a short history of the Museum.

Accessibility.

The Museum site is fully accessible to wheelchair users, except for the Electricity and Wasted! Galleries. A network of smooth paths links the five buildings to make access across the cobbled site easier. Toilets for wheelchair users are located in the Great Western warehouse, the 1830 Warehouse and the Air & Space Hall.

School Group Information

Bringing more than ten people on a school or group visit? You will need to pre-book. Download a Booking Form here. Post or fax it back to us.

It is the museum's policy that an adult must accompany children under the age of 16 and the following adult:child ratios are appropriate;

- 1:4 for children under 7 years of age
- 1:7 for children aged 8 years and over.

Teachers and group leaders will need to undertake their own risk assessments specifically for their groups, in line with their school and LEA policies and DfES guidelines.

Age Ranges and Key stages covered

Early Years and Key Stage1, 2, 3 and 4, Further and Higher Education.

National Curriculum Subjects Covered

Science, Art & Design, Geography and History

We advise that you:

- Make a preliminary visit to decide which of MOSI's large site your class or group will focus on.
- Decide what you want to visit and what you need to book, e.g. sessions, experiments, lunch area.
- Phone us on 0161 833 0027 or 0161 606 0156 to check availability and make a provisional booking.
- Obtain, complete and return a booking form at least 14 days before the date of your proposed visit. NB All groups of 10 or more must pre-book their visit to the Museum.

We will send you booking confirmation, essential information and teachers' notes for any booked sessions.

You should contact us if you haven't received the confirmation etc at least 7 days before your visit. You need to timetable your day at MOSI carefully, in order to take into account the times that have been allocated for booked activities and the allow sufficient time to move between parts of the large site.

Availability

The Museum is open every day from 10 am to 5 pm, except 24, 25, 26 December and 1 January. School sessions are for pre booked parties only. Lunch spaces are available for 30 minute periods. Booking is essential.

How to get to MOSI.

MOSI is 5 minutes walk from the Deansgate/Castlefield Metrolink stop, which is served every few minutes by trams from Piccadilly to Altrincham or Eccles. If your party is travelling to MOSI by tram, we've arranged a special rate with Metrolink for groups of 10 or more visiting the Museum. The discount applies to off-peak travel on weekdays (after 9.30am) and all day at weekends and bank holidays. Phone us on 0161 833 0027 to take advantage this offer (five days advance notice required).

- £1.00 return per child.
- £1.50 return for accompanying adults

The nearest railway station is Deansgate, which is served by frequent trains from Piccadilly, including some Buxton line trains. Deansgate station is 5 minutes walk from MOSI.

A free bus operates within the city centre and calls at Piccadilly station and MOSI.

7. Imperial War Museum North (IWM North)

Introduction

IWM North, part of Imperial War Museums, explores the impact of war on everyone, from the First World War to the present day. Schools can learn about the cause, course and consequence of war, through exciting exhibitions and curriculum linked activities. IWM North holds the LOtC Quality Badge

Opening times

IWM North is open 10 am to 5 pm daily except over the Christmas period. Admission is free but see below for charges relating to taught curriculum-linked sessions.

What a typical educational visit includes

All pre-booked groups can take advantage of:

- A free Meet and greet session to help navigate this amazing Daniel Libeskind building
- Free pre-visit, familiarisation and planning session with a member of the learning team (refreshments included)
- Free access to group lockers and lunch room (subject to availability)
- Free downloadable resources.

Our taught curriculum linked sessions support programmes of study at all levels. Charges apply.

All school groups wishing to visit IMW North must pre-book using the on-line visit request form available on our website.

We advise that group leaders visit us in advance of their school's visit in order to conduct their own risk assessment.

Tours, events, handling sessions and classroom based learning sessions have maximum capacities. Larger groups may have to be split. Also, due to popular demand, it is only possible to book one special (chargeable) activity per class per visit.

We recommend that all groups have an adult to child ratio of 1:10. Groups who do not meet this ratio will not be permitted access to the Air Shard viewing platform. The minimum ratio for secondary schools is 1:15 and we reserve the right to refuse admission to groups that do not meet the ratio on the day.

The Museum has accessible toilets and a free lunch space.

What size groups do we cater for?

Our capacity depends largely on what your group requires. Please fill in one of our online visit request forms from our website www.iwm.org.uk.

How to reach us.

From Piccadilly station, travel on an Eccles tram to Harbour City or Media City tram to the terminus. From either stop IWM North is a short walk.

Contact details.

9. Manchester Jewish Museum

Manchester Jewish Museum is for Jewish and non-Jewish people offering a unique experience as both a social history museum and as a resource for learning.

As a social history museum we tell the story of Manchester's Jewish community from the 1780s to present day. With 30,000 items in our collections, MJM explores the cultural and religious evolution of Manchester's Jewish community - the largest Jewish community in the UK (outside London). Our galleries reveal the political and industrial legacies of this community on a local, regional, national and international scale.

This is the only UK museum housed inside an original synagogue and, built in 1874, it is Manchester's oldest surviving synagogue building. The building provides a unique and powerful learning space for all ages. From schoolchildren to adult learners, MJM helps over 15,000 people a year discover, explore and celebrate Jewish faith and culture. Through its spectacular Grade II* listed building and through its displays, exhibitions and events programme MJM offers an experience that will inspire, inform and educate everyone

Learning

At Manchester Jewish Museum we offer a range of unique and enjoyable experiences for groups of all ages. Come along to enjoy a group tour, talk or school trip. Our new learning sessions for schools are an interactive and fun way to explore Jewish faith and history in the oldest synagogue building in Manchester.

On a visit to Manchester Jewish Museum your class can explore Jewish faith through engaging, interactive and sensory activities which aim to encourage exploration and discovery. Sessions will introduce pupils to the synagogue and Jewish ways of life. We also offer sessions to explore Local History and the Holocaust.

Sessions can be booked for groups from KS1-KS4 and for post 16 learners. You can find out more about the range of sessions we offer on our website:
<http://www.manchesterjewishmuseum.com/learning>

Planning your visit

Sessions last for 2 hours and will be run by an experienced facilitator. Admission is charged at £3.50 per child and any accompanying adults with a school group are free of charge.

Due to high demand sessions must be booked in advance. You can do this online at <http://www.manchesterjewishmuseum.com/learning>

Contact details and opening hours

The museum is open Sunday-Thursday 10am-4pm and Friday 10am-1pm. Admission is charged at £3.50/£4.50.

8. Longdendale Environmental Centre

Introduction

Our centre near Glossop in easy reach of Hadfield Station, delivers high quality curriculum based environmental education as well as family and community events. Utilising a large classroom, well established wildlife area and the stunning surrounding local landscape the centre has developed a reputation for delivering programmes that inspire young people.

The aims of our centre are:

- to promote awareness, understanding and ownership of the Peak District National Park
- to engage with young people and families and communities from Manchester, Oldham, Tameside, Stockport and the High Peak area of Derbyshire
- to raise awareness of wider environmental issues such as climate change, sustainability and bio-diversity

Education Visits Programmes

We run a range of education programmes from the centre with days usually running from 10:00am to 2:30pm and costing £5 per a pupil.. For further details please see our website; www.peakdistrict.gov.uk/learning-about

Programmes cover a range of curriculum areas and encourage pupils to build a respect and appreciation of the natural environment

- Programmes are fun and engaging and provide many hands-on activities
- Programmes are delivered either at the centre and within its wildlife area or at other sites within the beautiful Longdendale Valley
- There is a degree of flexibility within the programmes – they can be adapted to meet specific needs or curriculum requirements

Family and Community Work

We run events in the holidays for families and young people; these are also advertised on the website. On the first Sunday of every month we also run a Wildlife Watch group.

How to get there

Alight at Hadfield station and walk down Station Road to the roundabout, then down Waterside to Goddard Lane. Here turn right and follow the Pennine Bridleway signs up across the dam wall of Bottoms Reservoir towards the A628. The Longdendale Environmental Centre then lies to your right, in the former reservoir maintenance buildings. Approx 1.3 miles. Allow 30 minutes.
